

How to get to Casa Buonocore

Casa Buonocore is located in the center of Positano, just before the town's pedestrian area begins and a mere five minute walk away from the "Sita" bus stop and the port.

Taxis and rented cars can drive right up to the steps which lead to the guest house.

To reach the main entrance you will need to climb approximately 70 steps. Don't worry about your luggage: we'll send a porter to collect your bags and deliver them to your room for you.

If you decide to travel to Positano by "Sita" bus

Ask the bus driver to let you off at the "La Sponda" bus stop. From here, walk down the road for approximately 300 meters, after which you'll see a majolica sign to Casa Buonocore to your right: walk up the steps and you've arrived!

If you're coming by car

There's a garage within meters of the steps which applies special rates for customers staying at Casa Buonocore.

Let us know when you are in the vicinity of the hotel! We'll send porters to carry your luggage up the steps between the main road and the hotel.

How to get to Positano from Naples or Rome

The journey from the airports in Naples or Rome to Positano can be a long one and, for those travelling by public transport, entails changing trains and buses more than once. For this reason, we advise guests to avoid the stress, and book a private transfer instead.

We have made special agreements with a number of highly qualified private drivers, who will apply the following, exceptionally low, rates for clients staying at Casa Buonocore:

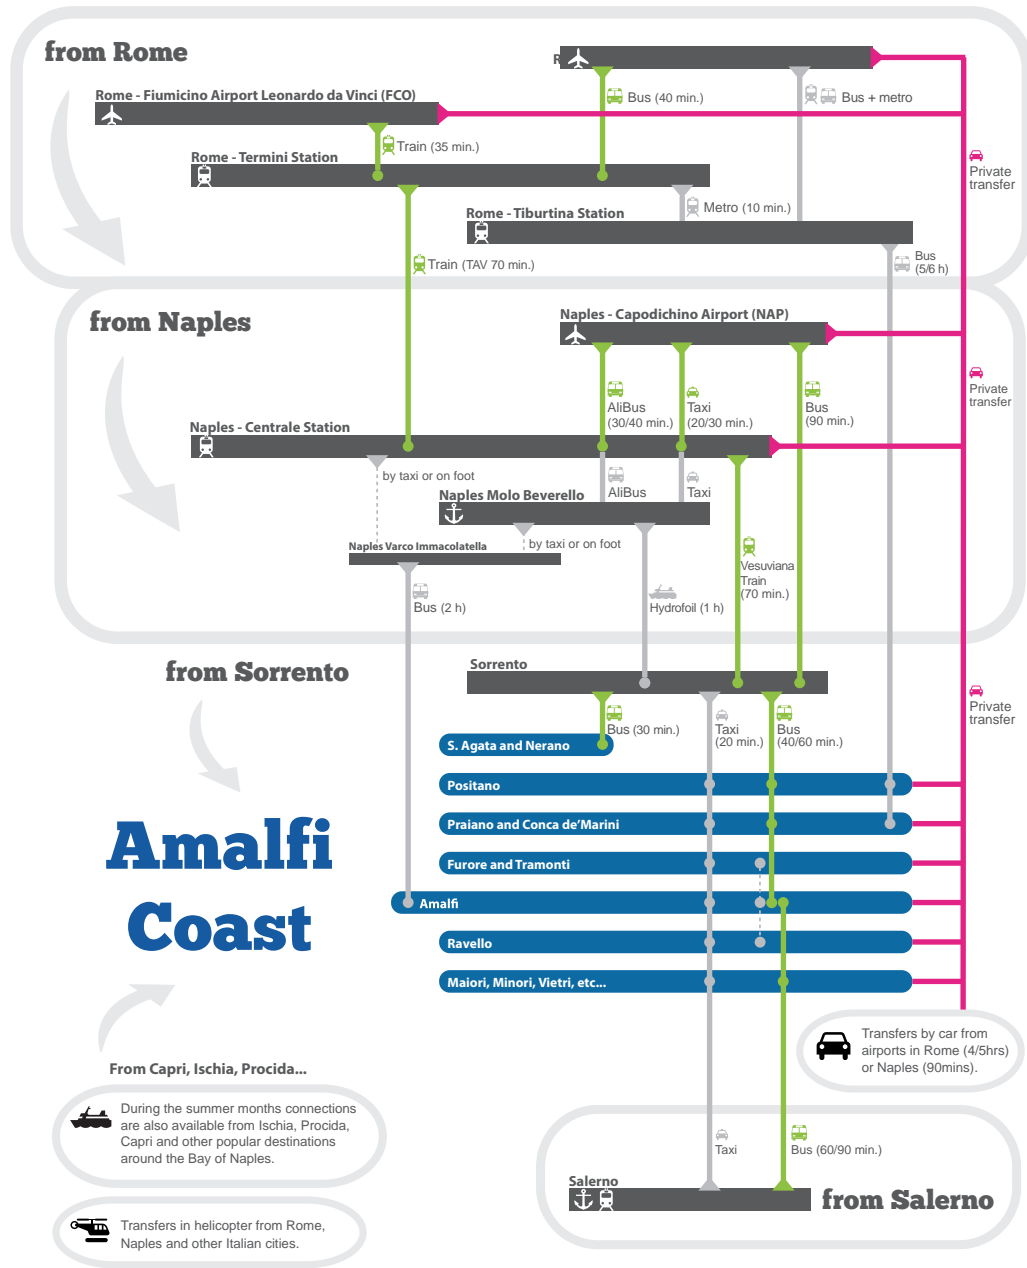

Transfer from Naples to Positano:

120 euro (1 to 3 passengers, luggage included)

Transfer from Rome to Positano:

500 euro (1 to 3 passengers, luggage included)

For those who want to travel to Positano by public transport

From Rome:

The journey from Rome to the Amalfi Coast is not the shortest: from the moment you land, it will take you at least four hours to reach Positano – a lot more if you miss a connection. If your plane is due to land in the afternoon, you might like to consider staying the night in Rome or Naples and postponing the journey down to the Amalfi Coast until the next morning.

- From Fiumicino or Ciampino airports take the shuttle to Roma Termini train station
- From Roma Termini take a fast train (Freccia Rossa) to Naples Piazza Garibaldi

From Naples:

- From Naples Piazza Garibaldi station take the Circumvesuviana train to Sorrento
- From Sorrento take the “Sita” bus to Positano (the stop is directly outside the station)

If you land at Naples Capodichino airport, take the Alibus coach and get off at Naples Piazza Garibaldi (the first stop).

For those travelling by car

If it's your first time on the Amalfi Coast, we strongly suggest you use a satellite navigation system! Set the destination to Viale Pasitea 1.

Once you've parked your car, walk back up the road following the direction of the traffic. You'll find Casa Buonocore to your left after just a few meters.

If you decide to hire a car

Worth remembering: the road to Positano is a long and winding one. In addition, it is poorly lit at night. If you plan to rent a car, we suggest you travel to Positano by private transfer first, and then rent a car once you arrive at Casa Buonocore – we will be pleased to recommend a number of car hire companies which will deliver your car direct to the garage next to the guest house.
